LIQUID SUPPLEMENTS

Are you seeking a flexible, effective way to support overall health? Liquid supplements are easy to incorporate into daily routines and ensure the body quickly absorbs the nutrients it needs.

AVOCADO OIL

Organic Avocado Oil is extracted from the pulp of ripe avocados. It contains predominantly monounsaturated fatty acids. Its mild flavor make it versatile for culinary use.

MCT C8 OIL

Organic MCT C8 Oil contains caprylic acid derived from coconut. It consists of medium-chain triglycerides that are metabolized more quickly than long-chain fats and is commonly used as a neutral-tasting dietary oil.

MACADAMIA OIL

Macadamia Oil is pressed from macadamia nuts and is rich in monounsaturated fatty acids, particularly oleic and palmitoleic acid. It has a smooth texture and mild taste. The oil is valued in both culinary and cosmetic sectors.

CHIA OIL

Organic Chia Oil is extracted from chia seeds. It is naturally high in alpha-linolenic acid (ALA), an omega-3 fatty acid. Due to its composition, it is primarily used in cold dishes and dietary formulations.

ALMOND OIL

Organic Almond Oil is obtained from sweet almonds through cold pressing. It contains predominantly monounsaturated fatty acids and vitamin E. Its light texture makes it suitable for both culinary and cosmetic use.

BAOBAB OIL

Baobab Oil is derived from the seeds of the baobab fruit. It contains unsaturated fatty acids and naturally occurring antioxidants. Its smooth texture makes it popular in cosmetic formulations.
